OBITUARY.

On the morning of June 23rd, 1905, the soul of little Clyde Derfield took its flight to that better land. He was the infant son of George and Delilah Derfield. He was born Jan. 15th, 1905, and died June 23rd, 1905, aged 5 months, 8 days. He was the only grandson of Rev. R. H. Cassidy.

Loving hands did all that could be done to assist the father and mother to keep him, but he has gone to that land where sickness, pain or death are felt and feared no more. Weep not, dear father and mother, for your sweet darling boy is basking in the sunlight of Heaven, with sparkling eyes all radiant with light, looking this way and saying, Father and mother, walk in the light of Jesus, following His footsteps and He will guide you to this heaven of rest where you will see me not in mortal flesh, but like him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

He was laid to rest in the Garred-Short cemetery. Burial services were conducted by Bro. John Short assisted by the writer. May God bless the bereaved friends and relatives and may they meet their darling in Heaven.

I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. In Case of Drowning.

Medical authorities say these rules are the best known to the profession in giving aid to those supposedly drowned. Accidents on the river are frequently reported at this season of the year, and an observance of the instructions may be the means of saving some lives:

1—Summon a physician as soon as possible, without leaving the patient in danger.

2—The treatment should be applied in the open air.

3—Remove the clothing—cut it off, if necessary, for the sake of haste—and quickly wipe the body dry.

4—Wedge open the mouth, and keep it open by tying a handkerchief through it like a gag.

5—Roll the person over on the face, then get astride of the person and gently raise his middle by the hands closed over the abdomen; in a few seconds the water will run out sufficiently to permit the next step.

6—Turn him around on his back keeping him on the level ground, and placing the mouth wedged open as before.

7—Kneel on the ground by his right side and keep the left fore-finger in the tongue to keep it in place.

8—With the right hand press the abdomen towards back and head of the patient. Press gently at first, but increase the pressure until as much air as possible has been forced out of the chest.

9—Then withdraw the hand, so that the lungs may fill with air.

10—Repeat these movements, at first making three or four times a minute, increasing to fifteen, and persisting at that rate until breathing has been re-established. Wrap him in warm blankets. Rub the body briskly under the clothing to assist in restoring circulation. Carry the patient to bed, after a good healthy reaction of the system has been obtained, and apply hot fomentations, hot bricks, etc., to his body.

The pills act as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, etc.

Early Risers are small, easy to take and easy to act—a safe pill. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles of these Famous Little Pills cured me of chronic constipation." Good for children or adults. Sold by Louisa Drug Co.
